

Theology and Revolution -- The 1839 Zurich Revolution: A Reader in the History of Theology for the Theology of History by Douglas R McGaughey is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial 4.0 International License.

*Theology and Revolution -- The 1839 Zurich Revolution:
A Reader in the History of Theology for the Theology of History*

Table of Contents

| | |
|--|----|
| Forward | v |
| Introduction | 1 |
| Part I: The Essentials | |
| Strauß Who? What? Why Does It Matter? | 20 |
| Historical Theology's Two Meanings | 20 |
| Why the Fuss over Strauß? | 24 |
| What is so Controversial about Strauß' The Life of Jesus Critically Examined ? | 30 |
| Strauß on Church Dogmatics and Myth | 31 |
| What does Strauß mean by Myth? | 35 |
| On Strauß' Mythic Reading of the Gospels | 41 |
| Strauß' Kantian Turn | 45 |
| Strauß' Emphasis on Christology and Radical Left-Wing, Hegelian Speculative Theology | 45 |
| On Mediating Theology | 52 |
| Strauß' Reading of Kant in 1835 | 53 |
| CLARIFICATION NOTE. On a State Church, State Theology, and Significance of the Censorship of Kant's Writings | 55 |
| Kant on Religion and Christology | 58 |
| A Kantian Criticism and Critique of Mysticism | 62 |
| The Turn that is The Life of Jesus Prepared for the German People (1864) | 64 |
| I) Strauß' Opinions of Kant in 1835 | 67 |
| II) What Strauß Overlooked in Kant in 1835 | 75 |
| III) Examining the Limits of Strauß' Own Christology: Despite Claims to the Contrary, Strauß' Christology is Not Concrete | 79 |
| On Schleiermacher's Mystical Theology: An "Ought"/"Is" Fallacy | 80 |
| On Hegel's and Strauß' Own, Speculative "Ought"/"Is" Fallacy | 81 |
| On the Significance of Skepticism and the Copernican Turn | 82 |
| Indications of a Copernican Turn in Strauß' The Life of Jesus Prepared for the German People | 84 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| Why Does It Matter? | 88 |
| The Significance of Strauß and Kant for Today: A Theology of History | 93 |
| A Theology of History: Antidote to the Misanthropy of Social and Religious Populism | 101 |
| Not just Content but Conditions | 101 |
| Reflecting- Precedes Determining Judgments | 102 |
| A Theology of History that Challenges Populism and All Other Misanthropy | 103 |
| Part II: A Historical Reader (Translations by Douglas R McGaughey) | |
| On D.F. Strauß and the 1839 Revolution in Zurich: McGaughey | 108 |
| Accounts of the Two Days that Dramatically Changed Zurich: | |
| An Eye-Witness Account Confirmed by Leaders of All Parties: | |
| Explanatory Notes on the Strauss Movement and September 6, 1839 Lieutenant/Colonel Friedrich Schulthess | 117 |
| A Partisan Account: | |
| Description of 6 September 1839 in Zurich The New Zurich-Calendar for the Leap Year 1840 | 153 |
| A Supporting Referee for Strauß' Call: | |
| On Theological Academic Freedom and the Election of Instructors for Universities: Paulus (Defending Academic Freedom) | 163 |
| An Opposing Referee for Strauß' Call: | |
| Dr. Strauß and the Church of Zurich: A Voice Out of North Germany: de Wette (A Hopeful Mediator) | 187 |
| Tongue in Cheek Appeal to the People of Zurich: | |
| Strauß Can't and Shouldn't Come: A "Farmer" (A Serious Humorous Take) | 197 |

Pro and Con Statements
On Strauß' Appointment

| | |
|--|-----|
| Pro: Epistle to the Highly Esteemed Messrs: Mayor Hirzel, Professor Orelli and Professor Hitzig in Zurich: Strauß (Who Am I? What do I Really Stand For?) | 206 |
| Con: Response on the Part of a Layperson to the Epistle of Mr. D. Strauss to Hizrel, Orelli, and Hitzig - Anonymous (What I Know is What I Know and It's True) | 219 |
| Pro: Epistle to the Upper Council of the Canton of Zurich: Henne (The Pluralist) | 225 |
| Con: The Value of the Written Word: Meyer (We know that the scriptures are the true Word of God and that Our Interpretation is God's Interpretation) | 235 |
| Pro: Doctor Strauß and His Teaching: A Free Word to the Free Citizens of Zurich: Kottinger (“Test everything, and take the good:” An Over-Romanticized, Tolerant Strauß As Victim of Intolerant Fanatics) | 246 |
| Con: Epistle To the Author of the Pamphlet: “Doctor Strauss and His Teaching” and the Zurich People: Wirth (A Meta-Narrative Claiming to be a Rational Denunciation of Strauß but Rejecting Violence and Political Insubordination) | 256 |

Letter from the Superintendent of Schools

| | |
|---|-----|
| A Free and Instructive Epistle by the Superintendent of Schools in Zurich to the XXII Members Of the So-called Committee of Faith: Scherr | 268 |
|---|-----|

Part III: Readings in the Theology of History

| | |
|---|-----|
| On the So-Called Conundrums in Kant's Philosophical Theology: McGaughey | 281 |
| What is 'Radical' Evil?: A Reading of Ricoeur on Kant and Religion: McGaughey [Works Cited Not Included in Page Count] | 320 |
| Enlightenment: Reflections on Michel Foucault's “Was ist Aufklärung? [“What is Enlightenment”]: McGaughey | 342 |

| | |
|--|-----|
| The Incomplete Copernican Revolution in Popular Legend, the Natural Sciences, and in Practical Reason (Morality): McGaughey | 346 |
| Studying Religion: More and Less than Mapping Territories: McGaughey | 358 |
| [One World, One Reason, One Faith, but Many Religions: Religious Studies in an Age of Pluralism: McGaughey | 389 |
| Part IV: 1840 Zurich Almanac | |
| Report on the Activity of the Aid Society for the Good of the Victims of 6 September 1839 | 401 |
| WORKS CITED | 410 |
| TOTAL | 418 |